In this event Holman was the winner, with Robinson second. It has been expected that Toldy, Hungary, would walk off with this event, but he did not even get a place, Handson, Sweden, beating him for third. When the result of this race was announced the crowd rose to its feet cheering and waving flags. There was the same outburst of enthusiasm when the United Kingdom won the steeplechase and then again when the Union Jack was twice hoisted to the peak of the flagstaff in the arena to signify a British victory. While the weather improved towards the afternoon, it still continued threatening, and later heavy showers inter-

BIG DETROIT BROKERAGE FIRM IN RECEIVER'S HANDS

Detroit, Mich., July 18 .- The broker age firm of Cameron, Currie & Co. of this city today went into the hands of a receiver, through a bill filed in the Wayne circuit court by Cameron Currie against his partner, Louis H. Cast asking a dissolution of partnership. Fred. G. Austin was appointed receiver by Judge Mandell, with a bond or $250,000. It is said that no other Detroit financial institution is involved in the difficulties of Currie & Company Practically the only charge which Mr. Currie makes in his bill for the disso-lution of partnership is that Mr. Case not secure enough cash to cover the purchase of stocks and bonds by the firm and that the firm in this way became obligated to others to the extent of about $1,945,000. According to Judge Mandell, Mr. Case admitted this charge. Mr. Currie stated today that the re-ceivership had been determined upor after a thorough discussion of the firm's troubles as the best way of weathering them and the most promising manner of collecting the heavy indebtedness from customers whom they had been carrying on their books.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 18. William J. Bryan's speech of last night to the members of the Central Labor union of Lincoln, in which he emphasized the labor planks of the Denver platform, has resulted in the receipt by him today of a large number of tele grams from labor leaders all over the country congratulating him on his utterances.

The dispatch from Erie, Pa., quoting Samuel Gompers as denying that he sent a cablegram to William R. Hearst which resulted in the latter's denounce ing the Democratic party, has attracted considerable attention at Fairview There is no disposition to question Mr. Compers' statement, but on the conrary there is every reason to believe that an inquiry already has been set on foot to ascertain, if possible, the author of the cablegram credited to Mr. Gompers.

Although Mr. Bryan has reached no final decision on the matter, it is very probable that on his way from here to Chicago next Friday he will deliver several addresses from the train, the first of which will be at Omaha. He has refused the tender of a special train and will travel as an ordinary passenger.

FOR UNIFORM BILL OF LADING

York and Other Cities Take Matter Up.

RAILROADS FIGHT CHANGE.

Some Banks Are Curtailing Their Loans on This Class of Collateral.

New York, July 18 .- When the comnisisoners on uniform laws meet at Seattle, Wash., on Aug. 20, they will be waited upon by committees representing the great commercial bodies of this and other cities and urged to draft a bill of lading to put an end to what the shippers term the gross frauds which they declare have made bills of lading an unsafe instrument of credit. The decision to have committees appear before the commissioners, was reached as the result of an announce ment of the interstate commerce comthority to order the railroads to revise their methods of issuing bills of lading to meet the objections which the commercial bodies have raised against the instruments in their present form. It is the present plan to have the new bill which is expected to be drafted by the commissioners on uniform laws intro-duced at the next session of Congress. A decision of the interstate commerce commission announced early this week, contained recommendations embodied in the demands of the shippers but the commission decided that it lacked the commission decided that it lacked the power to enforce these recommendations. It was in view of this, and the belief that the railroads would not accept the recommendations of the commission, that the plan announced today was formulated. The tremendous volume of business transacted on bills of lading is apparent from figures of the year 1907, which show that goods valued at $17.000,000,000 were shipped on the bills in that year alone. The commerued at $17.000,000.000 were shipped on the bills in that year alone. The commercial interests have been trying for the past three years to compel the carriers to issue two separate bills of lading forms in order to differentiate between the ordinary receipt and the more important "order" bill which is used as a basis of credit in the transportation of the country's crops, particularly the cotton and grain crops of the south and west and manufactured products. The shippers have demanded also that the railroads compel the surrender of the instrument upon delivery of the property to the consignee, several extensive swindles having been perpetrated against lenders by means of bills of lading, that were not so surrendered. As the ers by means of bills of lading, that were not so surrendered. As the railroads have fought the proposed changes from the first, representatives of the commercial bodies of this city say they do not expect the recommendations of the interstate commerce commission to change the situation at all. They believe, however, that whatever action is taken by the commisever action is taken by the commis-sioners on uniform state laws will be approved by Congress, as the com-missioners consist of representatives from the several states, appointed by their respective governors.

L. M. Manuelbaum of the bill lading committee of the Cotton exchange; Theodore F. Whitmarsh, vice president of the Wholesale Grocery association and Charles F. Droeste, of the bill of lading committee of the Mercantile exchange, in inetrviews day, all express the fear that if the present alleged abuses are not corrected by Congress early in its next session, credits will be seriously curtailed and in consequence all commer-cial inetrests severely handicapped. Lewis Pierson, chairman of the bill of lading committee, of the American Bankers' association, said it was tru Bankers association, said it was true that certain banks had curtailed their loans on this class of collateral, but that the movement had not yet become general. "We all hope," he said, "that before it does, Congress will pass a uniform bill of lading act that will safeguard the rights of all concerned."

When he left the court room an hour and a half later, he stood before the world innocent of the scrious charge against him. He was pronounced not guilty after a thorough investigation which he, himself, nsisted upon.

According to the testimony of the complainant, he went to the store where Westerman is employed, and asked for a loaf of bread, tendering in payment a $5 gold piece. The young man was unable to make the change and went into another department of the store to get change. Unable to get the same he returned. Thomas said the young man told him to call back later and get the change, and when he did so, he said, the defendant informed him that he would pay back the $5, and offered $2 then and the balance later. After this, Mr. Thomas said, the youth offered him $2.50, saying: "You stand half and I will stand half to avoid any trouble, as I do not want my good name tarnished and I want to protect the reputation of the store." Following this offer, said Thomas, Westerman refused to pay anything, declaring that he had returned the $5 piece and that Thomas had evidently mislaid it. Young Westerman took this course upon the advise of his employer. A day or two following, Westerman was arrested for theft. back later and get the change, and

SOLDIERS BEGIN MARCH.

(Special to the "News,")
Colorado Springs, July 17.—At 5:30 o'clock this evening the Fifteenth United States Infantry en route from Fort Douglas, Utah, to camp of instruction near Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., arrived near Fort D. A. Russel see Thomas. When the accused was in the stand he explained to Asst. City Atty Rogers that he made the offer of $2.50 to Thomas simply to avoid trouble and notoriety. After the testimony was all in Mr. Rogers argued that the young man either stole the money outright or he didn't. He said there was no room for a mistake and was of the opinion that the money was stolen.

But the case of the prosecution was completely shattered by the evidence of the defense and the argument of Atty. Newton.

"I say that a mistake was made in

"I say that a mistake was made in some manner," said counsel. "This young man has been employed at that store for more than two years and such men do not stay in one place for that, length of time if they are dishonest. The prosecution has admitted that the young man's reputation for honesty is beyond question and it is but natural that when he was accused of a dishonest act the first thought that would suggest itself to his mind was to offer to stand hulf the loss, if there was a loss in order to pratect his When his employer advised him not to pay any money to Mr. Thomas he took that advice occause he didn't propose to pay something he did not owe and he courted this investigation be-he courted this investigation be-cause he knew he was innocent. In appearing here for the young man it is a labor of love and I am glad to be able to defend him and I say that this young man is innocent and I know this courr will not find him guilty on the testi-mony that has been offered. Relatives of the young man have offered to give Thomas $5 but the defendant would not listen to such a proposition because ha

DID NOT CARRY AWAY

DID NOT CARRY AWAY.

Joe Baker, a laborer, pleaded guilty to stealing some brass and iron from the old copper plant, but he objected to the clause in the complaint which said "did steal, take, and carry away." He said he did not carry the stuff away but admitted stealing it. For the next 50 days he will perform labor with a pick and shovel for the city.

A youth answering to the name of B. Roberts, admitted he got drunk inst night, but could not offer any excuse for his actions while intoxicated. It appears that every time he gets drunk he has a mania for disturbing the peace and smashing things up generally. He was arrested at the Orpheum roominghouse, where he created quite a row.

created quite a row. HANSEN PLEADS GUILTY.

Chris Hansen, arrested yesterday terngon by Detective Sheets and Chris Haisen, arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Sheets and Janney for running a gambling house on Fourth South and State streets, appeared before Judge Diehl this morning. Hansen is the man charged with swindling a man out of $30 in the xambling dive. He pleaded guilty to the charge and the court fined him $50.

Leon E. Simons, a clean looking and well dressed young men, pleaded guilty to yagraney, but begged for a chance to leave the city. He stated that his mother would be here from the east on Monday and was going to take him to California. The court permitted him to Salfornia. permitted him to go.
